

USE OF GARAGEBAND IN MUSIC THERAPY

This 4 credit self-study provides step by step instructions for recording, mixing, editing, and looping in garageband on MacBook. Clinical applications will be described and demonstrated. Participants will receive a 3-hour video and PDF's detailing garageband functions and clinical applications. (Demonstrations are shown on macOS high sierra 10.13.6). This is a beginner's course for garageband on MacBook.

This course is facilitated by Audrey Hausig, MMT, MT-BC, who has extensive experience as a music therapist and clinical supervisor in mental health settings, including acute psychiatric settings with children, adolescents, and adults and in the treatment of substance use disorders. The course is open to music therapy students and professionals.

The course will be available from 12/01/2021 to 11/12/2023 Cost: $45
This course is free for Black and Indigenous Music Therapists and Black and Indigenous Music Therapy Students as a form of reparations. (Use the code "reparations" at check-out) Need based scholarships are available. (Full refunds are available until the video links and handouts are sent out at which time payment is nonrefundable) register: www.philadelphiamusictherapy.com or philadelphiamusictherapy@gmail.com

Learning Objectives:

At the end of this course, participants will:

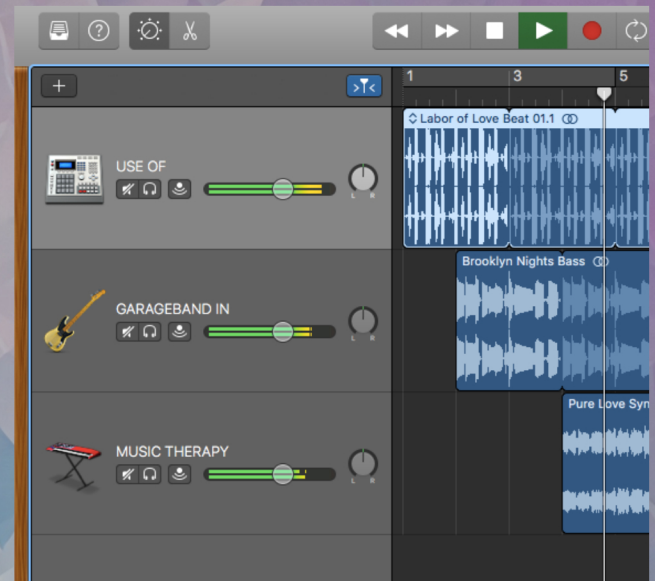

1. Be able to use garageband in their clinical work
2. Be able to identify 10 clinical applications of garageband in music therapy

Course Schedule: Total: 200 minutes

Getting started, loops, mixing, cutting, editing, effects, live tracks, adding from iTunes, sharing to iTunes: 82

Clinical applications: 104

Independent Study: 14

"Use of Garageband in Music Therapy" is approved by the Certification Board for Music Therapists (CBMT) for 4 Continuing Music Therapy Education credits. Philadelphia Music Therapy #P-203 maintains responsibility for program quality and adherence to CBMT policies and criteria. In addition, the provider is solely responsible for the registration process for this program, including pricing.